

“The Pasadena Job Center provides a safe, dignified way of matching day laborers with employers. For the city, the Center is a valued partner in workforce development.”

— Bill Bogaard, Mayor, City of Pasadena

Our workforce: Your resource.

The Pasadena Community Job Center

pasadenajobcenter.com

(626) 440-0112

Bringing people together to get jobs done.

That's what the Pasadena Community Job Center is all about. We connect members of the community — residential customers and small business owners — with other members of the community: skilled, hard-working day laborers whom you can depend on.

Painters. Gardeners. Roofers. Movers. Drywall installers. Cleaning men and women. Carpenters. Bricklayers. Child and elderly care workers. They all come to the Center hoping to find a temporary job. And all are ready and able to work at a moment's notice.

As an employer, all you need to do is call or walk in. We handle the rest for you.

NDLON

Brochure created in collaboration with

taproot
FOUNDATION

Why choose us?

There are no fees for employers or workers.

There is no need to make arrangements in advance.

Our hiring process is easy, convenient and dignified.

Our workers are honest, reliable and professional.

We provide a safe meeting place for day laborers and employers.

We're open for business.

Big or small.

So, whether you just need a little help around the house or you need major assistance satisfying your biggest, pickiest customers, you can depend on us.

Just call or stop by.

Pasadena Community Job Center

500 N. Lake Ave. Pasadena, CA 91101
(626) 440-0112
Hours: 6:00 a.m. – 3:00 p.m.
Monday through Saturday

For jobs that require specialized skills, you can expedite the process by calling a few days in advance, or by clicking on "Hire a Worker" online at www.pasadenajobcenter.com.

The Pasadena Community Job Center is a member of the National Day Laborer Organizing Network (NDLON), an alliance of more than 42 worker centers and other member organizations dedicated to creating daily, temporary and permanent employment opportunities for day laborers, with fair wages and safe working conditions. Our ultimate goal is to enable every day laborer to earn a living, contribute to society, and integrate into the community.

"The Pasadena Job Center provides a safe, dignified way of matching day laborers with employers. For the city, the Center is a valued partner in workforce development."

— Bill Bogaard, Mayor, City of Pasadena

Our workforce: Your resource.

The Pasadena Community Job Center

pasadenajobcenter.com
(626) 440-0112

Bringing people together to get jobs done.

That's what the Pasadena Community Job Center is all about. We connect members of the community — residential customers and small business owners — with other members of the community: skilled, hard-working day laborers whom you can depend on.

Painters. Gardeners. Roofers. Movers. Drywall installers. Cleaning men and women. Carpenters. Bricklayers. Child and elderly care workers. They all come to the Center hoping to find a temporary job. And all are ready and able to work at a moment's notice.

As an employer, all you need to do is call or walk in. We handle the rest for you.

Brochure created in collaboration with
taproot
FOUNDATION

For employers and workers, We're the center of everything.

The Pasadena Community Job Center is the "go-to" place for day laborer services.

Besides linking employers with workers, the Center monitors worker quality. We also help day laborers find full-time work and set up small businesses of their own. We promote workforce development through skills training and English language classes. And we foster stronger relationships within families and between neighbors, with community-building efforts such as sports leagues.

All in all, we are dedicated to helping people — both men and women — reach their potential as breadwinners for their families and productive members of our community.

"I have a big lot and need gardening and clean-up help all the time. I couldn't even tell you how many guys I've hired there through the years — hundreds. Really nice people and hard workers."

Pasadena Homeowner, Susan Zelkowitz

With friends and allies, we're building community.

Building community is a collective effort. The Pasadena Community Job Center could not exist without the generosity of individuals and organizations who provide financial support, most notably:

City of Pasadena

Private foundations

In addition, the Center is fortunate to be able to rely on the advice and expertise of the Community Advisory Board.

For information about how you can donate funds, goods or your time, please contact the Center.

Is hiring hard work?

Not here.

Call 626-440-0112

to hire workers now.

Giving back to the community

The Los Angeles day laborer community clear debris from mudslide-damaged hills in Malibu, California. Day laborers also mobilized to aid in rescue and provide clean-up services in the aftermath of Hurricanes Katrina and Sandy.

Pasadena Community Job Center

Facts

Established 2000.

Funded by a grant from the City of Pasadena as well as significant donations from private foundations and generous members of the greater Pasadena community.

Supported by numerous volunteers in the skilled trades, English language teachers and others.

A proud affiliate of the National Day Laborer Organizing Network (NDLON) association of more than 42 worker centers nationwide.